Opposition to the Rule Barring Interscholos-That all will not be plain sailing at the meeting of the Intercollegiate A. A. A. next Saturday is evident from the feeling evoked by the proposed amendment to the constitution. This is to the effect that no one shall represent any college or univerity as a competitor at the annual field meeting who has ever won a first, second or third place in any interscholastic or open field or track sport, until he shall have resided one calendar year at the college or university he represents and has passed an annual examination on a full year's work. The keynote of opposition to the proposed change was struck at the meeting of the In-terscholastic Association held on Monday. The delegates were unanimous in the beliethat it would be a serious blow to interscholastic sport and would prevent the boys from striving for honors at school to the detriment of their chances for greater glory while at college. ment against the sweeping character of the rule in college circles for some time and the action of the Interscholastic Association in naming delegates to attend the meeting on Satur ing delegates to attend the meeting on Saturday and oppose the change has developed outspoken objections from some of the collegians. There is no general movement against the application of the rule to men who win prizes in open athletic contests, as the representatives of nearly all the prominent colleges feel that something should be done to prevent star athletes entering educational institutions with the Liea of scoring points in the annual intercollegiate championships, but it is pointed out that the schools are merely preparatory to a course in college. The opponents of the change hold that it would be as fair to prevent a student who, has secured honors at school course in college. The opponents of the change hold that it would be as fair to prevent a student who has secured honors at school in any particular branch of study from continuing that study during his first year in college as to prevent his competing with his fellows in sports because he has outstripped his competitors in interscholastic events.

One result of such a rule would be to make a prominent athlete try for honors at some other sport, and thus the Intercollegiate Association, which is supposed to foster track and field sports, would detract from the interest in games and benefit other college sports in which it has no interest.

The colleges that do not make a specialty of post-graduate schools are a unit against the change, and as many of the smaller colleges are in this class, there is every prospect of a lively debate on the question.

Princeton has fallen into line with the opposition and John F. Cregan, the captain of the track and field team, comes out strongly against the proposed amendment. He says:

Thiceton will certainly oppose the passace of the amendment to the intercollegicate constitution which legislates against school-boys. The utter foolishness and injustice of the proposition are apparent to every one who has studied college athletics. The whole aim of a schoolboy who indulges in athletics is to attain a degree of proficiency that will be recognized when he enters college and place him on the much-coveted varisty team. To deprive him of this object would be a death-blow to his ambition and would tend to lower the new splendid standard which both interscholastic and intervollegiateathletics have reached in America.

"There is more likelihood of a man remaininsile and inter-collegiate athletics have reached in America.

There is more likelihood of a man remaining in college for a post-graduate course after he has shown his profileincy in intercollegiate contests than there is of a school boy being induced to enter any particular college because of his prominence in interscholastic contests. Under the present rules no man can conteste more than four times at the annual intercollegiate championships. If a man is barred out in his freshman year, he would, if the new rule is passed, lose one of the few opportunities to distinguish himself and gain bonors for his alma mater unless he takes a post-graduate course. Frinceton deternies largely on the freshman class for athletes. A number of other colleges situated as we are feel the injustice of the proposed change, and a determined effort will be made to eliminate the clause discriminating against schoolbors who clause discriminating against schoolboys whise been good enough to win prizes in the proper held."

Heffley School of Commerce of Brooklyn deeated the visiting team representing the Poughkeepsie Military Academy last night at the Clermont Avenue Ice Skating Rink, Brooklyn, in what proved one of the most interesting matches of the season. The play was fast and very elever throughout the match. In the first half Heffley put up some clever team work, but the visitors from up the Hudson were right in it. Bush scored for Hoffley on a pass from MacDonald in seven minutes, and then it was hot playing by both teams. The passing and checking were surprisingly fine and the best yet shown by schoolboy teams this season. Capt. Bartlett secured the rubber on a pass from Christie and scored Poughkeepsie's first goal in 14 minutes. Capt. MacDonald scored again for Heffley just before the whistle blew, leaving the totals of the half. Heffley School, 2: Poughkeepsie Military Academy, 1. In the second half MacDonald scored again for Heffley, and five seconds before time was called Bartlett shot another goal for Poughkeepsie, leaving the totals of the match. CROSS-COUNTRY RUNNING.

The Fine Weather Lures a Number of Enthusinsts Over Heavy Country.

Cross-country runners were out in force yes terday for the first time since the blizzard rendered the pastime dangerous to even the hardy athletes that no ordinary weather deters from indulging in their favorite sport. A score of runners gathered at the popular rendezvous on Jerome avenue and started for a spin over the seven-mile course. The fine weather which prevailed gave no indication of the condition of the country and the pack was in difficulties directly the fields were encountered. Walter Grady of the Kniekerbocker A.C. cut out the pace and led the way through snow and slush at a merry gait. Many of the runners found the regular course too difficult and dodged some of the low-lying fields which the thaw had transformed into vertiable quagnitres.

The pacemaker eventually cut the course and the only one to cover the entire distance was G. Pfortner, the diminutive wrestler of the Pastime A.C., who has never been known to balk in any kind of weather or over any country. The slippery going caused many accidents but not one was serious, though J. Hirsch of the New West Side A.C. had his leg cut rather bodly. of the country and the pack was in difficulties adly. The order of finish of the first six men was:

W. Grady, Knickerbooker, A. C., first, C. i Xavier A. C., second, L. Strickler, Pastime third; S. Milly, Metropolitan Mount Vernou fourth; J. P. Malloy, Vavier A. C., fifth, C. Mand, New York City, sixth. Time, I hour 5 m fourth, J. P. Mailoy, Xavier A. C., fifth: C. McCleiland, New York City, sixth. Time, I hour 5 minutes.

Twenty-six hardy young athletes started in the cross-country run of the Cotumbia Fleid Citub vesterday. The start and fluish were at the clubbonse, corner of Griffith street and Hudson County Romevard, Jersey City Heights. The course led up the Boulevard to Paterson avenue, to the Secaucus road, to the County road, to Zabriskie street, and return to the start, making nearly six miles distance. The going was so heavy, due to the thaw, that only six of the contestants finished. They were a sorry-looking sight, being wet and covered with mud and almost exhausted.

Harry Parker, who finished sixth, and thereby secured the last of the prizes offered, showed the greatest amount of pluck, having fell within fifty feet of the finish, and being too weak to rise, crawled the remainder of the distance on his hands and knees.

The winner proved to be William Edgar, who ran from scratch, and covered the distance in 36 minutes and 30 seconds. He is only 18 veats old, having a pretty, clean-cut stride, and gives promise of being heard from at some of the amateur meets to be held during the coming outdoor acason. Gustavus Smith, with 4 minutes handlean, finished second, with Frank Cambion, 5 minutes handleap, fourth; Edward Mulhearn, 2 minutes handleap, sixth.

N. T. A. Rule Committee Meets.

The Rule Committee appointed by President P. P. Johnston of the National Trotting Assoeiation held two sessions at the Murray Hill Hotel yesterday. Ed A. Tupton took the place of Congressman J. C. Sibley, who sent word that he could not be present, and the other members were Robert L. Allen, Jollet, Ill.; Mike Bowerman. Lexington, Ky; W. J. Andrews, Goshen, and George W. Archer, Rochester, As the special congress of the N. T. A., which is to meet at noon to-day, will take netion, only the new rules of harness racing enacted at the regular blennial congress of 1838 were considered by the Rule Committee. The principal controversy to-day is likely to centre round the attempt to repeal the rule which prohibits the use of hopples in harnes racing.

The deliberations of the Rule Committee were held behind closed doors, and it is not known what course it will recommend to the congress in this important matter. Nearly every member of the committee, however, is known to be personally opposed to the pacers that cannot race without having their legs tied together, and horsomen are confident that the report of the Rule Committee will be on the right side of the question. Few expect that the congress will stand by its action of one year ago, when, by almost unanimous vote, the track managers who are to meet today agreed to drive the hoppled pacer off the turf. The prevailing opinion among horsemen at the Murray Hill Hotel last night seemed to be that the congress will either repeal the rule against hopples or so amend it that the track managers can multify it without difficulty. Still, there is likely to be a lively fight before the opponents of hopples are beaten. Secretary Goeher said yesterday that the proxies which had been sent to him from members of the N. T. A. were just about evenly divided for and against the hopples. ciation held two sessions at the Murray Hill Hotel yesterday. Ed A. Tupton took the place members of the N. T. The second game in the series for the lightweight championship of Westchester county between the Mount Vernon High School team and the Turks of New Rochelle was played in the Town Hall at New Rochelle hist night before about 1,000 persons, many of whom came from Mount Vernon to root for the schoolboys. The latter hald a decided advantage in the first half, and when Hermes and Specie such threw goals and the latter added one on a foul, it looked like a runaway. Just before the close of the half Boardingham of the Turks received the ball on a pretty pass from Hoffman, and secred the Turks only tally in the half. Flay was faster if anything in the second half and the Turks tried every trick known in the game to seere. At last Hoffman got the ball on a fake pass and scored a pretty basket. The game was of the hurricane order from that point, and during a hot serimmage Doering emerged from the bunch with the bail and threw an easy goal, putting the local team in the lead. There was no more scoring, and the game ended: Turks, 6: Mount Vernon High School, 5. Previous to this game the second team of the High School beat the District branch V. M. C. The first and second teams of the Eastern District branch, Y. M. C. A., succeeded in winning two games yesterday afterneon from the first and second teams of the Twenty-sixth Ward branch. The games were played in the latter's gramasium in East New York. The first game was between the two first teams and was a hummer from the start, and, despite the efforts of both teams to break it, the half ended a tie at 16 points each. The Eastern district players played the steader game in the last period, and, by clever work in passing and throwing goals, assumed the lend, which they held to the end. The fluid score was: Eastern District first team, 27: Twenty-sixth Ward first team, 24. The games between the second teams followed. The Twenty-sixth Ward lightweights were outclassed from the start. They had practically no defence, and their attempts to score were very leable. The Willamsburg youngsters, on the other hand, were a lively tot and scored '0' points in the the first half without much effort. The Twenty-sixth Ward team braced up a bit in the concluding period, but failed to score. The game ended Eastern District second team, 8; Twenty sixth Ward second team, 9.

Find the Others - Says He'll Do So. Bernard Siegrist, 35 years old, of 120fChrystle street, the bartender in a saloon at 108 Bowery, was arraigned before Magistrate Kudlich in the Centre Street Police Court resterday charged with having caused the death of Thomas H. Murray of 317 East Seventyfifth street, who died in the Metropolitan Hospital on Blackwell's Island on Sunday night from the effects of a beating which he said he received in the maloon on the morning of Feb. S and the exposure to the cold which he underwent on being thrown out of the place after his Ill usage.

Murray staggered into the Mulberry street police station on the morning of Feb. 8 and said that he had been knocked down and beaten in the saloon for trying to protect a drunken sailor who was being robbed there. As his story was contradicted by all the persons in the saloon a detective who was sent back with him to the place declined to make any arrests. Another policeman took Murray to the Hudson Street Hospital, where a scalp wound on his head was dressed. He repeated his story there, but it was not believed. Several hours later he applied for treatment at the dispensary at the foot of Last Twentysixth street and was sent to the Metropolitan Hospital, where it was discovered that his skull was fractured. He died there on Sunday night after having made a statement to Coroner Zucca and having identified Slegrist as one of his assailants in the salcon.

In his statement to the Coroner Murray said that he entered the salcon where he was assailted about 5:30 o clock in the morning and while there, hearing voices in the back room, went there to flad out who was talking. He saw three men in the act of robbing a drunken sailor and returning told the backeccer that unless he stopped the robbery he would call in a policeman. The bartender, whom he identified as Siegrist, went back, Murray said, and he heard him say to the others.

"There's a squealer out there. We'll have to do him."

The three thieves returned with him and pushing him against the bar one of them demanded: "Are you a spottor?"

Murray said he replied that he was not.

"You are, you d—d liar," said the bartender, according to Murray's statement.

The bartender, he said, then grabbed'him from behind, while the three others seized chairs, and attacked him. When they had beaten him into insensibility he was thrown out, into the street, Murray described the bartender as a short man who had a conspicuous gold teath. On this description Siegrist was arrested. sixth street and was sent to the Metropolitan Hospital, where it was discovered that his

In court yesterday Coroner Zueca told Magistrate Kudlich that he had taken Murray's statement and told its substance, but the Magistrate was inclined to discharge Slegrist.
